County topped table for 'delayed transfers' in early January

By Jack Johnson
jack@taylornewspapers.co.uk

OXFORDSHIRE S hospitals are among the worst in the country for bed blocking figures released by NHS England have revealed

The John Radcliffe Churchill, and Nuffield Orthopaedic in Headington and Banbury s Horton General Hospital topped statistics in England between January 2 and 4 with 163 beds unavailable due to delayed transfers of care

Between December 29 last year and January 4 they had 568 beds taken up by patients who were well enough to have been transferred

Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group (OCCG) who work in partnership with the trust said they were "disappointed" but not surprised by the figures

A spokesperson said. "The increase in numbers since November 2014 is disappointing but to be expected when more people become ill at this time of year with flu and colds especially the elderly

"Whilst the pressures are heightened the Oxfordshire health system has worked to ensure the quality of patient care has been maintained

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Trust runs all four hospitals

Scrutiny organisation Health watch Oxfordshire say the figures are evident of long term concerns

CEO Rachel Coney added "It is very disappointing and frustrating to see the lack of progress on resolving this issue

"The different agencies involved need to stop remaking and revising plans and instead focus on undertaking the plans they already have

Lib Fest to honour Witney schoolgirl

A FESTIVAL in memory of Witney 14-year old Liberty Baker who was killed walking to school last June is to be held in the town this year.

Family and friends are organising Lib Fest – a day of events including a fun run and music to take place in Witney on June 27.

It marks almost a year to the day since Liberty was hit by a car as she was walking along Curbridge Road to The Henry Box School on June 30.

Lib Fest is the latest in a series of events held in Liberty's honour including a silent disco and the releasing of hundreds of balloons in Witney.

The festival is being organised by Liberty's friends Perry Kerslake and Kieran Butler who

By Adam Flinn
adam.flinn@taylornewspapers.co.uk

said: "Liberty was a kind loving girl that would do anything for anybody and expect nothing in return.

"The day will be Lib's day to remember her by and do some activities she loved so much – hopefully this will become a yearly thing."

Plans for the festival include a five kilometre fun run around Witney.

At The Leys there will be activities including a climbing wall and bouncy castle.

Corn Street-based club Fat Lil's will also be hosting a number of live bands for the festival.

Mayor of Witney Jeanette Baker backed the festival.

She said: "I think it's just an absolutely brilliant idea.

"The young people involved first approached me last year and I've been really happy to support them.

"There's much to be commended.

"They've not been frightened to ask questions and it has been excellent working with them.

"I think it will be a success and we'll encourage the memory of Liberty to continue."

Bampton teenager Robert Blackwell has been charged with causing death by dangerous driving.

He is scheduled to submit a plea at Oxford Crown Court on March 6.

Missing puppy

POLICE believe a stolen Bulldog puppy worth £16,000 could be in the Oxford area.

Thames Valley Police launched an appeal yesterday for information about its whereabouts.

The rare lilac British Bulldog puppy was taken from a breeder's home in Tedworth, Surrey, on October 17 last year.

Five men aged between 24 and 27 from Oxford have been arrested in connection with the theft.

They have been bailed until February 19 and 20.

Investigating officer DC Con Eloise Lock said: "I am calling for the public's help as we still need to find the puppy and return her to the rightful owner."

She added: "If you have noticed any unusual behaviour by your neighbours, or anybody you know in relation to any new pets they have, we need to hear from you."

Call police on their 101 number with information.

Hunting arrests

SOUTHMOOR: Five men have been arrested on suspicion of hunting offences after they were caught by police at 9.55am last Friday morning.

Officers had received reports of hare coursing at Southmoor and when they attended people and dogs ran away across fields towards Hanney.

The men, aged from 19 to 58, and all from Pontypool in Wales, have been bailed until February 9.

Murder denied

ABINGDON: A woman charged with the murder of Farmington man Robert Dobinson in Abingdon on October 19 pleaded not guilty at Oxford Crown Court yesterday morning.

Natasha Elderfield, 41, of no fixed abode, denies stabbing 33-year old Mr Dobinson by the River Thames near Bridge Street.

He was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford afterwards where he died of his injuries.

The start of the trial has been set for Tuesday April 7 at Oxford Crown Court.

Gateway plans

DIDCOT: Plans for the redevelopment of land opposite Didcot Parkway Station will be unveiled later this month.

The site, named Didcot Gateway, would include a hotel, retail and public spaces as well as leisure facilities.

An exhibition will be held at Cornerstone in Station Road between 4pm and 8pm on January 23 and 10am and 2pm on January 24.

For more information about the plans, visit the website didcot-gateway.co.uk.

Man jailed for ignoring his restraining order

A 24-YEAR OLD man was sentenced to nine months in prison at Oxford Crown Court last Monday for breaching a restraining order five times in the space of a year.

John Tom Loveridge, 24, of no fixed abode, pleaded guilty to breaking a five-year restraining order preventing him from contacting an Oxford woman.

He was sentenced to a total of nine months in jail for breaching the order on September 28 and 29 and ordered to pay the victim £100.

Detective constable Tim Hawley said: "This sentence reflects the severity of the situation, where the offender repeatedly breached the restraining order imposed upon him.

"This order prevented him from contacting the subject by any means, directly in person or indirectly through phone-calls, text or social media.

"He repeatedly breached this – five times in a year – ending with twice in two days in September.

"This is extremely distressing for the subject of the order and it will be a great relief to her that he will be locked up for the next nine months."

Oxford woman is one of three honoured in UK

Charity founder Nicola wins top royal honour

By Adam Fiina
adam.fiina@trinitynewspapers.co.uk

AN OXFORD charity founder is celebrating after finding out she is one of the first ever winners of the Queen's Young Leaders Award for her charity work.

Nicole Byrom, a teacher at Oxford University's St John's and Somerville Colleges was told she had won the prestigious award on Monday.

The 27 year-old was chosen for her work championing student mental health and founding a charity called Student Minds.

It supports students struggling with problems such as eating disorders by encouraging them to speak about it with friends and others dealing with similar problems.

Nicola will collect her award from the Queen in London in June.

"It's incredibly exciting to have won" said Nicola. "It's great to have been selected from a panel of my peers.

"I set up the charity because I really passionately believe in peer support.

"While all of the professionals play a really important role peers can also play their part and be really effective in providing support."

Nicola decided to set up the charity after experiencing mental health problems as a teenager and finding it difficult when she moved to university.

She added: "It made me more aware of the struggles in terms of finding new support networks and meeting new people.

"I think I became very aware at university that a lot of people really struggle to find that sort of support.

"So it's a powerful experience for them to meet other students with the same issues and know that other people have different coping strategies or approaches to recovery and share that."

Nicola is one of 10 young people aged between 18 and 29 from across the Commonwealth to be given the award, and one of just three from the UK.

Dr Astrid Bonfield, chief executive of The Queen Elizabeth Diamond Jubilee Trust said: "The leadership of talented young people in all spheres of life can transform communities and societies for the better.

"The Queen's Young Leaders programme is poised to unleash the potential of this diverse and talented group of young people and we are delighted to be supporting them to go further and achieve more."

Report reveals hospital problems

She added: "From February our trained volunteers will be out and about talking to people about their experience of being discharged.

The NHS England figures published last week also revealed 14,307 beds were blocked country wide due to delayed transfers of care between December 29 and January 4.

A Department of Health spokesperson said: "While long waits to be discharged are unacceptable, there are actually fewer as a proportion of hospital admissions over the last few years.

"But we know there are issues in some areas and hospitals are working with the social care system to resolve this.

"We've given the NHS an extra £700million for thousands more doctors, nurses and beds this winter."

Pool appeal

OXFORD: A community group who fought to keep Temple Cowley Pools open has insisted their campaign isn't over despite the pool being shut last month.

Save Temple Cowley Pools are planning to challenge Oxford City Council's decision to use the site for housing.

They are holding a public meeting on Saturday on their plans from 6pm to 7pm at Temple Cowley United Reformed Church Hall in Oxford Road.

Pongathon

OXFORD: The first inter company table tennis league is to begin in the city on January 27.

The Pongathon City Challenge will see businesses register their doubles teams, before being drawn to face other companies in a group stage-style competition.

A knockout final will determine the winners to represent the city in the National Pongathon City Challenge Finals in London later in the year.

Teams need to register by January 23. Go to pongathoncitychallenge.com.

Decision delay

OXFORD: A decision on whether to approve redevelopment plans for Jericho boatyard has been deferred.

Oxford City Council's west area planning committee delayed making a decision to give councillors a chance to visit the site beforehand.

The application for 23 houses, community centre, boatyard, restaurant, public square and bridge could be considered on February 10 instead.

Sex predator jailed for over 12 years

THE former head of an Oxfordshire children's home who preyed on boys over a six year period was jailed for more than 12 years on Monday

Rodney Smallman, 73, of Erica Close, Banbury, was sentenced to 12 and-a half years by a judge at Oxford Crown Court for sexual offences against children under the age of 16

Smallman was convicted on December 19 by a jury after pleading not guilty to 15 counts of indecent assault between 1976 and 1982

He was arrested on February 2013 and charged that August after a victim told police about the sexual abuse

Investigating officer Det Con Joanne Waddington described the abuse suffered by the victims as "horrific"

She added "They have had to continue living with what Smallman did every day but thanks to their courage in coming forward he now faces a long time behind bars"

By Jack Johnson
jack@thelorrynewspapers.co.uk

Adrian Foster, chief crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service said Smallman "abused his position of trust"

He continued "As the head of the home Rodney Smallman took advantage of his status to prey on young boys and sexually abuse them for his own sexual gratification.

Mr Foster added "The emotional impact, on the victims and their families of the abhorrent actions of this man is impossible to quantify"

Help for ex-offenders

MORE than £200 000 has been awarded to Oxfordshire's councils and probation service to help prevent ex-offenders from becoming homeless following their release from prison

Cherwell District Council submitted the claim for funding to the Department for Communities and Local Government's Single Homeless Fund.

Together with the four other district councils the county council and the probation service they were awarded a total of £227 362

The money will be used by the group to improve housing opportunities for single ex-offenders to ensure they have somewhere to live upon their release.

Debbie Pickford Cherwell's lead member for housing said "Often it is very difficult for offenders to integrate back into society as they face the challenges of finding suitable accommodation and a job to sustain it

"It is important that all the relevant authorities work together and share information to provide the best possible support, circumstances and aid to prevent homelessness and ensure successful rehabilitation.

"This joint bid allows us to work together to prevent as many ex-offenders as possible from becoming homeless in the future."

Part of the funding will be used to provide two posts at the probation service to establish links to supporting organisations such as Thames Valley Police housing providers and support services

The Single Homeless Fund was announced by government in June last year with £2million being set aside for the scheme

Communities minister Stephen Williams said "This government is determined to protect the most vulnerable people in our communities and give them the help they need to get their lives back on track."

King William's carriage to go under the hammer

A LANDAU Coach commissioned by King William IV in the 19th century is going up for auction in Oxfordshire on March 7

It is the highlight of the sale and could fetch over £200,000

It is part of a private carriage collection of more than 150 lots dating back to the 1500s

They have never before been exhibited, and it will be the first time the collection has been on show to the public

The sale at Bonhams auction rooms in Banbury Road at Shipton-on-Cherwell near Kidlington starts at 11am

During the past 30 years this fascinating collection has been lovingly maintained and painstakingly restored, and occasionally used in international carriage competition by their Dutch owner, said Rob Hubbard, Bonhams' motoring specialist

"It's quite rare for such a vast single-owner collection of this quality to come to market, so it has attracted some great interest and attention."

Built by coachbuilders Adams & Hooper it would have been used by nobility on tours of Britain and Europe

It is thought it was also used by King William IV on long trips

Homeless man jailed for Headington burglaries

A HOMELESS 42 year-old man who burgled jewellery and electronics from two Headington homes has been sentenced to three years in prison.

Clifford Edmonds of no fixed abode pleaded guilty at Oxford Crown Court on January 5 to the burglaries

The first was on October 22 last year when Edmonds broke in to a house in Northway through an unsecure door

And the second was on October 25 when he gained entry into a house in Tilehouse Close

Edmonds was sentenced to three years in prison for the Tilehouse Close burglary and 12 months to the Northway break-in with both to run concurrently

Investigating officer PC Stuart McLaren said, "This conviction demonstrates the important work local neighbourhood teams do in the community

"Following a series of burglaries in the area, the local neighbourhood team identified Edmonds as a suspect

"Having located and arrested him, they recovered stolen property from burglaries at Tilehouse Close and Northway in his possession

"The conviction will hopefully bring closure to those victims involved."

Brookes to leave Wheatley as part of £130m upgrade

OXFORD Brookes University is to abandon its Wheatley campus as part of £130million plans to expand its sites in Headington and Harcourt Hill

The move, announced by the university on Monday, will see all of the teaching, research and support activity moved from Wheatley to the other campuses from next year

It will kickstart a revamp programme and possible new builds at Headington and Harcourt Hill over the next 10 years

The Faculty of Business will move from Wheatley in 2016/17 while the relocation of the Faculty of Technology, Design and Environment is expected to be in 2021/22

By Adam Fhm

adam.fh@newspapers.co.uk

Professor Janet Beer, vice chancellor of Brookes, said "Oxford Brookes has always attracted some of the highest calibre staff and students entering higher education.

"It is essential that the university can continue to provide the best possible experience for its staff and students

"This means that we need to invest in our facilities over the coming years and I am confident that the 10 year plan is the best way to achieve this."

The first buildings at Headington to be modernised will be Clerici, Sinclair and the former library, with further plans to improve the Helena Kennedy, sports centre, Abercrombie, Fuller, Headington Hill Hall, Main Hall, old Refectory, Tange and Gibbs buildings

The majority of buildings at Harcourt Hill will also be refurbished

Staff and students are to be consulted on the prioritisation of this

Plans for the Wheatley campus after all services have moved from the site have not yet been revealed

Geoff Donnelly, chair of Brookes' board of governors, said "The university knows from recent experience about the transformative impact of new facilities and buildings

"Both the Abercrombie and the John Henry Brookes buildings have significantly enhanced the learning environment, as well as the look and feel of the Headington Campus – but we can't stop there."

"The community's positive reaction to the completed John Henry Brookes building illustrate that the university can achieve great things for the local landscape as well as for its students and staff

"This is something we are committed to continuing."

Bicester's new Tesco will still go ahead

TESCO's plans for a new store in Bicester will still go ahead, despite the supermarket giant announcing they have axed plans for 49 new sites across the country

Proposals had been put forward to build a larger store next to the A41 Oxford Road and move from their current site in Pingle Drive

Tesco chief executive officer Dave Lewis issued a statement last Thursday confirming their intention to go ahead with the new store the same day it revealed 49 shops were axed

It read: "We've carefully reviewed our planned new store developments across the country and it remains our intention to open our planned store in Bicester"

Tesco received planning permission for the new store from Cherwell District Council in 2013

Around 250 additional jobs are expected to be created.

Norman Bolster, the council's lead member for estates and economies, said: "Tesco has had to make some difficult decisions in light of recent financial reports, so it inspires confidence to know they are proceeding in Bicester

The fact that Tesco is willing to invest demonstrates the strength of the economy here in Bicester and this will only continue to grow with the arrival of the new store."

In a separate application, Bicester Village has received planning consent to develop the existing Tesco site to expand its retail space

Scientists pay tribute to "one of the greats"

TRIBUTES have been paid to "one of the greats of British science" Mary Lyon, who died at her Drayton home near Abingdon on Christmas Day.

By Jack Johnson
jack.johnson@trinitymirror.co.uk

Ms Lyon, who passed away at the age of 89 on December 25, had worked as a geneticist at the Medical Research Council (MRC) in Harwell for 35 years until her retirement in 1990.

• Mary Lyon (picture courtesy of MRC)

She is most famous for the discovery of X inactivation.

She suggested one of the two X chromosomes in the cells of a female mammal is randomly inactivated during early development.

She received many honours including the Wolf Prize in Medicine and in 2004 a new research facility at Harwell was named the Mary Lyon Centre.

MRC Harwell has paid tribute to Ms Lyon in a statement on its website.

It says: "Mary was a colleague and friend to all of us, and was pivotal in leading and developing mouse genetics at Harwell.

"Her accomplishments were widely recognised by many international honours and prizes and she was a formidable icon to all woman making their way in science.

"We celebrate her life and contributions to genetics she was one of the greats of British science."

Ms Lyon's funeral will take place tomorrow at South Oxfordshire Memorial Park and Crematorium in Garford near Abingdon, at Midday.

Vote shake-up dropped 12,000

THE principle that every qualified voter is able to cast their ballot is the cornerstone of a healthy democracy.

Unfortunately the government's shake-up of electoral registration means over 12,000 people have disappeared from the electoral register in Oxford ahead of the 2015 general election. Hundreds of thousands are missing from the rolls across Great Britain.

I broadly welcome the introduction of individual electoral registration begun under the last Labour government.

I am concerned, though, that the current government has been complacent about the transition from household to individual electoral registration with terrible effects for levels of registration.

Ministers have jettisoned tried and tested methods with the result that they have dropped many eligible voters off the registers.

We have not seen this level of de-registering since the early 1990s when 600,000 voters took their names off the register in an attempt to avoid payment of Margaret Thatcher's Poll Tax.

Certain groups who are qualified to vote will be especially under represented under the new system -especially mobile people who move from home to home, often within the same calendar year – such as young private renters and students and people whose first language is not English and may come from ethnic minorities.

You can help by going online at gov.uk/register-to-vote to register – it takes less than five minutes. Don't let the electoral shake-up rob you of your vote.

Cyclist crash

BICESTER A 40 year-old cyclist is being treated for serious injuries at the John Radcliffe Hospital in Oxford after colliding with a van on the A41 on December 31.

At 5.30am a white Mercedes Sprinter van collided with a cyclist near Graven Hill.

They were both travelling in the same direction towards Bicester.

Con-man jailed

GORING A builder who conned a Goring pensioner out of more than £4 000 has been jailed for 18 months.

Mark Cooper, 48, of Stovolds Hill, Cranleigh, was sentenced at Winchester Crown Court on January 7.

Cooper cold-called the victim, who is in his 80s, claiming his roof was leaking and needed repairing.

The pensioner paid £2 500 but when he believed the work had been done, Cooper said he would be back the next day to finish the job and pocketed a further £1 800.

It was also agreed the fell underneath the roof needed replacing at a cost of £2 000 and Cooper would carry out the work on November 18.

But the victim called Trading Standards at Oxfordshire County Council who arrested Cooper on his return.

Experts confirmed the roof was not leaking and the work carried was unnecessary.

Doctor's lifesaving work set to live on after his shocking death

THE work of an Oxford doctor who died last year is to continue after a campaign was launched to raise funds for an ultrasound scanner to help save lives of kidney transplant patients.

Nilay Patel, a consultant urological surgeon at the Churchill Hospital, died suddenly last May aged 36 following a chest infection that spread to his heart.

He had been working with colleagues to make Oxford the main centre for complex kidney surgery, and on a particular technique to remove tumours from a kidney outside the body.

The kidney needs to be checked after the operation by ultrasound scanning, but any delay could cause the kidney to die.

So to ensure the Churchill Hospital always has a scanner available, Nilay's wife Seetal helped start a campaign to raise £30 000 for charity Urology Cancer Research and Education (UCARE) to buy a new scanner for the hospital.

"He was always so dedicated to his profession and cared very deeply for his patients," said Seetal.

By Adam Flinn
adam@lmlocalnewspapers.co.uk

"I knew what this meant to him and how proud he was that he could save and improve lives.

"Since his sudden passing I have been inspired to help build a lasting legacy for him."

The operation sees a patient have their kidney taken out, the tumours removed, the kidney reconstructed and then transplanted back into the body.

Over the next few hours there is a risk of the arteries and veins becoming blocked.

So an ultrasound scan needed to monitor this.

Professor David Cranston, a kidney cancer surgeon who worked closely with Nilay, said, "We want to raise £30 000 for a fairly basic ultrasound machine in memory of Nilay.

"When he broke the news to the department he died very suddenly everybody was in shock and lots of tears were shed.

"He was absolutely brilliant, a competent surgeon clinically and a delight to work with."

• Nilay Patel

Val Berry, senior executive at UCARE, said, "One of the important things to do is be able to do a scan right after the operation.

"If you have to wait for a scanner, then you're losing vital time.

"So what we hope to do is raise this money so the scanner is there and it can be used exactly when it is needed.

"It's a really important piece of equipment.

"The campaign has already raised more than £1 300.

"To make a donation to the campaign go to justgiving.com/nilay or contact the charity via ucare.cancer.org.uk."

Funding boost to get youngsters to university

OXFORD Brookes University has been given £150 000 by a government funding body as part of a new scheme to encourage young people to move into higher education.

The Higher Education Funding Council for England (HEFCE) has given Brookes the money to lead a local network of schools, colleges and universities.

They will act as a resource for other institutions in the area, offering support and information to schools and colleges as they prepare their students for higher education.

Alice Wilby, director of UK recruitment at Brookes, said: "We are delighted to take part in what will be a significant resource for schools and colleges to get more young people into higher education who otherwise may not have had the opportunity to do so.

"The relationship with our local and wider community has allowed Oxford Brookes to play an important part in widening participation."

The network Brookes leads will include Oxford University, Activate Learning and Abingdon and Witney College as well as other centres in Berkshire, Buckinghamshire and Swindon.

Pooh sticks contest hunts for new home

By Jack Johnson
jack@oxfordmailpapers.co.uk

ORGANISERS of the annual World Pooh Sticks Championships are planning a dry land version of the game this year as they hunt for a new location.

The Rotary Club of Oxford Spires has run the event which sees sticks race down river at Day's Lock in Little Wittenham on the Thames since 2009.

It is based on the game in AA Milne's Winnie the Pooh tales.

But the village has been hosting the event for 31 years and it usually coincides with the Earth Trust's lambing weekends – which means the site is too busy.

Rotary club spokesperson Lesley Adams said: "We have got to continue it for the sake of all the fans of Winnie the Pooh and everyone who loves playing Pooh sticks.

"We want to make it bigger than it ever has been.

"We would like to keep it in Oxfordshire because it has its roots in the county but it does not have to be the Thames."

The Pooh sticks event attracts about 1,000 people with more than 600 competitors – but it struggles to facilitate parking.

Ms Adams says the club are looking to move the event to relieve the pressure on the village and so it can be held in the summer.

Currently the Environment Agency only allows the competition to be held between October and the end of March because of high levels of boat traffic from April.

The club are interested in moving anywhere in Oxford – Abingdon, Didcot, Wallingford or Witney.

Ms Adams added: "The village gets so busy at lambing weekends and there are so many visitors that it is just not big enough for Pooh sticks as well as lambing.

"The Earth Trust can't move because they are based there so we said we would start looking for a new home and venue."

One solution for this year could be to hold it on dry land where string would be used to reel in the sticks fastest – similar to a Santa sleigh race held by the Rotary Club of Maidenhead Bridge.

Ms Adams said: "We're just thinking outside the box to try and find a solution. It would be nice to hold one this year.

Traditionally players drop a stick in the water from a bridge and the winner is the competitor whose stick appears on the other side first.

If organisers manage to arrange the event at Day's Lock this year it will be held on Sunday March 29 in the river.

But if they cannot hold the championships there and do not manage to find another location it could be held on dry land somewhere else on another date.

Mayor of Didcot

Different Christmas in Didcot

HERE we are at the start of another year. I hope everyone had a good Christmas and that 2015 brings happiness to all.

This Christmas was a little different for the Mayoress and I.

Instead of our usual day with family we made two visits.

The first was to the Didcot Community Hospital where we spent some time with patients and staff.

The second was to the Meadows Day Centre where we met local resident Anna Gabrell.

Anna and her team of volunteers gave up their Christmas to provide Christmas dinner, fun and company for people who would otherwise have been alone.

We were both humbled by the dedication and selflessness of all involved and returned home with a renewed appreciation of our family.

The greater part of my year as mayor is behind me and I can't believe the months are flying past so quickly.

Looking ahead to 2015 there is much to look forward to.

The next big event for me is the Civic Ball which will take place on February 27.

The ball is a major fundraising event for my charity and promises to be a great night out as well.

I hope to see some of you there.

Van thefts

SOUTH AND VALE Police are linking a spate of catalytic converter thefts.

Thieves tried to steal one from a van at Hayden Farm in Henley on January 3. The device was stolen from a van on Watlington Industrial Estate overnight on January 3 to 4 and a second vehicle was damaged. Between 9pm on January 4 and midnight on January 5 they were also stolen from three vans at Van Alloys Industrial Estate in Stoke Row.

Police believe the offenders are targeting platinum, palladium and rhodium in the devices to sell on.

didcotgateway

We want to create an attractive entrance to Didcot, providing a welcoming environment for residents and visitors. To achieve this, South Oxfordshire District Council is drawing up plans for the creation of 'Didcot Gateway'

Didcot Gateway will be a mixed-use development introducing a new hotel, areas to hold business meetings, shops, leisure facilities and public space in which to spend time with friends or while you wait for a train. There will also be a number of high-quality new homes for rent and sale.

Aerial view of site

How can I get involved?

Our draft proposals for Didcot Gateway will be on display at the Cornerstone Arts Centre (opposite Crowmarsh) on Friday 23 January, 4pm – 8pm

Saturday 24 January, 10am – 2pm

The information displayed at the exhibition will also be available online at www.didcot-gateway.co.uk after the event.

Puzzles

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

The flaws of a funnyman

By James Richings
james.r@oxfordmagazine.co.uk

COMEDIAN, novelist, radio presenter and all round nice guy Mark Watson is bringing his brand new tour 'Flaws' to the Oxford Playhouse on January 22

The 34 year old is known for appearing on panel shows such as 'Mock the Week' and 'Have I Got News for You' whilst also being a regular act at the annual Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

And despite being born in Bristol, he is also known to deliver his act with a Welsh accent - a trick that gave him confidence when he started his stand up career.

"I don't really use the Welsh accent anymore," Mark told the Guardian.

"But when I started out it was a good way of hiding behind a persona and discovering a comic voice that was a bit different from my own.

"So it gave me courage to get up on stage without feeling too much like myself. Also, some words sound funnier like 'monkey' for example."

He comes to the Beaumont Street theatre off the back of a very eventful 2014, which saw the comedian write a new radio show, novel, and become a father for a second time.

However, the show will dissect into some of the demons of Mark's life which includes an early midlife crisis.

"As the title suggests, it's about the ways we fail and the shortcomings of my personality specifically.

I talk about self esteem issues, drinking, poor relationships with other humans, all sorts of relatively dark subjects, while still trying to keep it entertaining."

He added: "This show has been polished over quite a long period, starting with a full run at the Edinburgh Festival and then doing 40-odd tour shows last year.

So it's at quite an advanced stage, which means there's room for me to improvise and vary the show from night to night. So the audience should expect a show that's packed with jokes, but also has an element of the unpredictable."

The show is suitable for anyone aged 15 and over with tickets costing from £15. Visit oxfordplayhouse.com for more information.

Acoustic night

THE Bullingdon Pub in Oxford will host an acoustic night next Thursday evening, January 22.

Artists from all over Oxfordshire are welcome to perform to an enthusiastic audience, with the musicians being situated at the front of the Cowley Road venue.

It starts at 8pm.

The Strangers

ACOUSTIC band The Strangers will be at The Marsh Harrier Pub in Cowley on January 17.

As part of a small tour around the UK, the threesome will be lead by acoustic singer-songwriter Ron Trueman-Border whose genres of music include folk, blues, country and jazz.

This event at the Marsh Road pub is a free event that will begin at 8pm.

Missing Persians

LOCAL country, blues, rock, jazz, soul and reggae group The Missing Persians will be at the Oxford Folk Club on January 16.

Formed at the start of 2013, the quartet are known for gigging at various locations across Oxfordshire.

The gig at the Abingdon Road venue will start at 8.30pm, costing £6 per person.

Saxophonist's smooth tunes

AWARD winning jazz tenor saxophonist Simon Spillett will be performing at The Oxford Wine Cafe on January 25.

By James Richings
jamesr@oxfordmessenger.co.uk

The 40-year old will perform in a trio at the South Parade venue with John Critchinson on the piano and Paul Jefferies on the double bass.

Paul is also events organiser at The Oxford Wine Cafe.

"I performed there last year in the company of pianist John Critchinson," Simon told the Guardian.

"We had a great time and it's lovely to be asked to return to such a welcoming, convivial atmosphere."

The musician and writer first fell in love with jazz when he started to listen to his father's record collection.

After releasing his debut album, Introducing Simon Spillett in 2006 – which received widespread airplay on jazz radio stations – awards and nominations have come in thick and fast.

In 2007 his second album 'Sienna Red' was nominated in the best album category at the BBC Jazz Awards and scooped the critics' poll for Best Jazz Album of 2008/09 in Jazz Journal International.

"Success is a hard thing to quantify," Simon explained.

"I know that although I've reached a certain level of success career wise, the saxophone will continue to provide a lifetime of challenges.

"However looking back on some of the things I have already achieved I feel I've come a long, long way since I first started playing.

"Winning awards is always nice whatever anyone says to the contrary – to see your name on an award contributes a great deal to your sense of self belief.

"As for a highlight – that's a difficult one I suppose the moment that I realised my own band was comprised of some of my heroes who I'd grown up listening to. That makes you pinch yourself."

The free event starts at 8.30pm and finishes at 9pm.

Visit oxfordwinecafe.co.uk/jazz/ for more information.

Comedy night

THE Oxford Imps will be The Wheatsheaf from 8pm next Monday, January 19.

The comedy group of residents and students perform funny scenarios similar to the improv show 'Whose Line Is It Anyway?'.

Tickets cost £3.50 for the High Street gig, lasting for two hours.

My Old Lady

THE Theatre In Chipping Norton will show last year's comedy drama film, 'My Old Lady' on 21 and 25 January.

Kevin Kline travels from New York to Paris to liquidate a valuable apartment. Inherited from his estranged father, Maggie Smith, Kristin Scott Thomas and Dominique Pinon also star in the movie.

Tickets for the screening at the Spring Street theatre cost £6 to £8.

Mic night

AN OPEN mic night will take place at Far From the Madding Crowd next Monday, January 19.

From poetry to singing, all performers are welcome to share their talent at the Friars Entry pub.

The pub will also have a guitar available for performers.

The free event starts at 8pm and finishes at 11pm.

Mindspiders comedy show

COMEDIAN, writer and occasional cross-dresser Andrew O Neill will be at Oxford Playhouse tonight, January 15.

The 35 year old entertainer from Portsmouth brings his brand new 'Mindspiders' tour to the Beaumont Street theatre where he will deliver his best sarcastic, witty and often dark one liners.

And after openly admitting that he doesn't always make sense on stage, Andrew said: "The audience can expect all of the words, phrases, songs, anecdotes, lies and incantations my brain has conjured up in the last year."

He added: "There will also be a megaphone and adverts. Oh and some claws.

There may be some claws too. We'll see. We'll see. We'll see. Eh? We'll see.

His stand up career started 15 years ago when Andrew O Neill performed at the Laughing Horse Comedy Club in London.

Since then, the eccentric entertainer has travelled throughout Britain, Europe, the US and Australia performing at various comedy clubs, theaters and music festivals.

He has since appeared on hit shows 'Never Mind the Buzzcock's', 'Stewart Lee's Comedy Vehicle' and Steve Coogan's critically acclaimed sit com 'Saxondale'.

Andrew is also the founder, guitarist and vocalist of the steampunk band 'The Men That Will Not be Blamed for Nothing' which he started back in 2008.

On being asked what inspired him to start the tour Andrew said: "I've just cut and pasted everything I've written on Twitter in the last 18 months so they'll be a lot of re-tweets.

And quite a lot of the last few jokes will be me saying 'I'm doing this gig in Oxford you should come' and then give the email address of the theatre.

I will then close with the classic 'tickets are still available for my gig in Oxford tonight' bringing it all right up-to date.

'So don't expect any structure."

It is suitable for over 16s.

Tickets for the show, starting at 7.30pm, cost £8 to £10.

Visit oxfordplayhouse.com for more information.

TOO MUCH, TOO YOUNG
Isn't it daft that we ask teenagers to make really big decisions about their future when they're still children themselves? Jack Rennalls had his own demons to deal with long before he was diagnosed as HIV-positive and given 30 days to live.
In these early days of the AIDS epidemic, the US was divided over how to combat the virus. Ron was ostracized by many of his childhood friends and his ostracism led him to new lovers, new homes, new sexual partners and, ultimately, to a tragic death.
TEDxOxford is the largest independently organised TEDx event in the UK. Previous instalments of the event sold out within days and have featured world-renowned speakers including Camila Batmanghelidjh, Susan Greenfield and Vidal Sassoon. The conference has been covered by publications such as Wired, the Huffington Post and The New Scientist.
For the first time ever, the 2015 conference will fly in speakers from all around the world. It wants to be the most wide-reaching and thought provoking conference to date.
Join hundreds of other like-minded individuals and get your ticket to the event of the year before they sell out.
Be sure to like/follow TEDxOxford on Facebook and Twitter and sign up to the mailing list via the TEDxOxford website, and be the first to hear about our speaker releases.

Vauxhall's "Grand Slam" tops the car-makers Adam range with sleek style

Sports car on the starting blocks

REVIEW: Vauxhall Adam "Grand Slam"
By James Richings

DURING its debut on British soil last week the Vauxhall Adam "Grand Slam" edition showcased its latest technical gadgets

It was unveiled last year at the Geneva and Frankfurt Motor Shows but made its home turf entrance at this year's Autosport International in Birmingham's National Exhibition Centre (NEC) last week.

The "Grand Slam" comes to the UK boasting updated mechanisms, attributes and designs.

These include a spirited 1.4-litre turbo engine as well as a specially tuned chassis and a VXR braking system.

With 148 horse power and 220Nm of torque, the Adam "Grand Slam" can go from 0-62mph in 8.5 seconds and hit a 124mph top speed with its 1.4 litre engine.

It is also decked out with a trendy interior and exterior.

The front lip spoiler, side sill mouldings and an extended rear bumper cut-out with a visible exhaust tailpipe make the bodywork appear more muscular than a standard Adam.

The edition also comes with a total of ten body paint choices and four further roof combinations.

The distinctive rear spoiler above the rear window and the special Adam logo on the C-pillars complete the car's look.

Inside the vehicle the driver and front passenger can choose from four different seating types.

Three of them are exclusively available for this Adam which includes the Recaro Performance seats in either Morrocana leather or Nappa leather.

The interior reflects the red design theme in many ways with an optional leather package.

This includes a leather black and red steering wheel, gear knob and hand brake, stitched and white lighting for the instrument panels and doors.

The original Vauxhall Adam was first introduced in 2012 and hit the roads at the beginning of 2013.

Orders open for the Adam "Grand Slam" this month.

▪ The Vauxhall Adam "Grand Slam"

We keep it simple, nearly new cars at a fraction of the original price

...less than 2 years old, less than 25,000 miles and much more car for your money!

We will not roll over, says captain May

TOM May says personal pride will ensure Londou Welsh do not roll over and accept relegation from the Aviva Premiership

The Exiles are 20 points adrift at the foot of the table after last Sunday's 38-7 defeat at 10th placed Newcastle Falcons

And their misery was further compounded as Shane Geraghty's late drop goal earned second bottom London Irish a 22-26 win over Exeter Chiefs

This leaves both Falcons and Irish 20 points ahead of the Exiles with nine rounds remaining.

May the team captain accepts that the margin may be too big to recover but insists Welsh will not give up without a fight

The 35 year old who will retire at the end of the season said "It does not mean we will just roll over and die for the rest of the year

"There is a certain amount of personal pride that goes with that

"We want to keep trying to improve and the lads work hard week in week out and we will continue to do so

Welsh conceded three tries in seven first half minutes against a resurgent Falcons side last Sunday while the Exiles struggled to keep possession

May added "Your not going to recover against anyone let alone a side that has been doing so well over recent times

"Defensively we let ourselves down and that is an area we have been working hard on in recent weeks"

He continued "You have to create your own luck and we have certainly let ourselves down

"We lack a bit of patience and a bit of quality which costs us the ball.

"Turnover against these teams and you are punished straight away We really need to stop doing that

May will hang up his boots at the end of the season and insists relegation would not tarnish his 16 year career

He said "My career is not based on the next six months

"I will look back on my career and it won't be tarred by how difficult this season has been

"I still enjoy playing for the club and I look forward to playing every week."

Coach Smith optimistic ahead of European ties

ASSISTANT coach Olhe South says victories in Europe and the LV=Cup in the next couple of weeks could help London Welsh in the latter half of their league campaign.

The Exiles are 20 points adrift at the bottom of the Aviva Premiership and with outa win this season but take a break from the league over the next four weeks

Welsh travel to Bordeaux Begles in the European Rugby Challenge Cup tomorraw before hosting Lyon on January 25

LV=Cup games then follow against Saracens and Newport Gwent Dragons

The Exiles then return to league action against Sale Sharks on February 15

Smith said, "If we win one or two games over the next few weeks we suddenly go into these league games in a different place mentally

"You can't hide from the truth that it has been a very difficult season.

But if we continue to improve and make these strides then at some point we will get that result

He added "There is still a long way to go but it will be a tough task to get out of this

We certainly are not giving up and (head coach) Justin Burnell reiterates that "

Brave City knocked out by Woking

OXFORD City's valiant FA Trophy run came to an end on Tuesday night in a narrow 2-1 defeat to Vanarama Conference side Woking.

Former Oxford United midfielder Josh Payne and John Goddard scored as The Cardinals advanced in the second round replay tie.

City did brilliantly to force a replay last Saturday with Greg Pearson and Declan Benjamin netting as the Hoops came back from 2-0 down to earn a draw

And on Tuesday night City shocked Woking once again by taking the lead at the Kingfield Stadium through Pearson.

However, the tie turned on the sending off of Alejandro Santiago before Payne equalised from the resulting free-kick.

City battled in the second half as Goddard scored what turned out to be the decisive goal with 17 minutes remaining.

Justin Merritt's side return to Vanarama Conference North action on Saturday with a trip to league leaders AFC Fylde

Appleton confident frontman can be "great asset" for Oxford United

BOSS IS BACKING HOSKINS TO MAKE IMPACT

HEAD coach Michael Appleton is backing Will Hoskins to make an impact on his return from injury

The forward came on as a second half substitute in last Saturday's goalless draw against Dagenham & Redbridge after three months out with a groin injury

Hoskins looked relatively sharp after only featuring in one development game since his injury and Appleton hopes the striker can stay fit.

He told the club "I m delighted to see Will back on the pitch

"I think he could be great for us a great asset, and he has certainly got bags of ability

"The fitter and stronger he gets, the more dangerous he is going to be for the opposition."

However fellow striker Pat Hoban was denied his first taste of action on Tuesday night.

The Irishman was due to play in a development game against Thame United but the match was called off due to a waterlogged pitch.

Hoban signed for the club in November and would have been eligible to play from the beginning of this month before he was sidelined with an ankle injury two months ago

Meanwhile, United received some good news with regard to the hamstring injury that forced James Roberts off against Dagenham.

The 18 year old who has already been out with a hamstring injury this season, pulled up again at the weekend

However the injury does not seem to be as bad as first feared

Roberts told the club "It doesn t feel anywhere near as bad as the first injury and I am hoping to be back quickly

"I ll obviously listen to the advice from the physio and make sure that I do everything correctly throughout my rehab work."

Meanwhile United have missed out on bringing full back Joe Riley back to the club after the 22 year-old signed a two-and-a half year deal at Sky Bet League Two rivals Bury Riley made 22 appearances for United during a five month loan spell from Bolton Wanderers earlier this season.
